A NEW EVENT ON THE EUROPEAN DOCUMENTARY FESTIVAL CIRCUIT

FIPADOC is France's new international documentary film festival, founded after 31 years of success by its predecessor FIPA, the former multi-genre festival.

FIPADOC will take place from January 22-27th in Biarritz, showcasing a full range of premium contemporary documentaries (short, medium, and feature-length films; specials and series; student films; VR; and webdocs). The Festival will award three competition categories (International, French, and Music documentaries) from a field of more than 10 entries per category, and present additional selections including the IMPACT thematic section and the 2019 Country of Honor: Germany. FIPADOC is open to any type of narrative, storytelling, aesthetic, length, or format – provided that it's author-driven, creative, groundbreaking, and extraordinarily bold, of course!

With an ambitious Industry component, FIPADOC aims to become an essential networking hub for documentary film professionals and decision makers – not only those based locally but also those attending from abroad. FIPADOC intends to quickly become an important port of call on Europe's documentary festival circuit, efficiently integrating itself within the sector's existing ecosystem. In addition to hosting a number of networks & institutions (France Télévisions, ARTE, CNC), professional gatherings, social events, and such, FIPADOC Industry will feature a key pitching session for projects specifically looking for French and/or German partners.

SAVE THE DATE!
